

Competency Assessment Framework for Independent Standard Work

How should competence be assessed so that independent standard work can be approved consistently using observable evidence rather than informal judgment?

